

The House – Location, Tickets, Reviews

maxamoo

Theater, New York City

- Festivals
- Shows »
- Artists & Venues »
- Podcasts
- Special Stuff
- Maxamoo »
-

The House – Location, Tickets, Reviews

Posted on March 13, 2014

Search

GO

Maxamoo's NYC theater podcast

Connect to Maxamoo

NEW EARLY
BUZZ, NEWS, &
RECOMMENDATION

[Hedwig And The Angry
Inch – Location,
Tickets, Reviews](#)

After appearing in over 30 international festivals and venues all over Europe, The House, a puppet, comedy, thriller created and performed by Danish puppeteer Sofie Krog and Spanish artist David Faraco, is now in New York City for a 5-day limited engagement at HERE Arts Center. The House is billed as appropriate for adults and children 10+.

The house in The House is a funeral home. Mrs. Esperanza, her nephew and heir Henry, and Henry's wife Flora, all live in the house. When Mrs. Esperanza decides to change her will and leave the house to her sons, Flora overhears the plan and takes drastic action, which leads to a series of crimes and surprising twists.

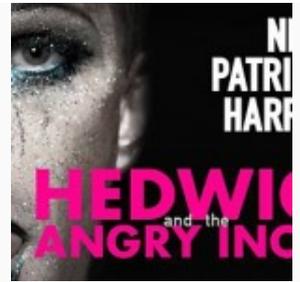

Maxamoo

The House starts off with a spooky tone and effortlessly maintains a sense of suspense throughout the show. Brutal crimes occur but they are subtly depicted and your imagination is left to fill in what the puppets, waving axes and dismembered limbs, leave out. The House is also rife with cartoon-like buffoonery. Each gripping moment is followed by a hilarious twist.

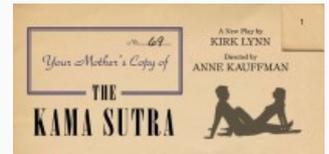

The seven puppets, each with a distinct voice, characteristic mannerisms, and individualized nuance, are brought to life effortlessly by just two puppeteers. The eponymous house emerges from a beautifully designed revolving set. It is a marvel.

Recommended . . .

- If you enjoy a thriller that is exhilarating and filled with humor;
- Whether or not you love puppetry; and
- If you dig innovative set design with intricate, beautiful detailing.

Your Mother's Copy of the Kama Sutra – Location, Tickets, Reviews

The Public Theater Announces 2014-2015 Season

Violet – Location, Tickets, Reviews

Sign-up for Maxamoo's Newsletter

Maxamoo Mail delivers news of the best theater in New York directly to your inbox, for free, twice a week.

The Daily Digest delivers news and reviews gathered from 20 newspapers, magazines, and respected independent bloggers, daily Monday through Friday.

Pick one and sign-up!

Email Address

Maxamoo Mail

Daily Digest

Maxamoo Mail

Subscribe

Public Opinion

The performance we attended was sold out. Judging from the gasps, enthusiastic laughter, occasional “aww”, and full ovation, it’s going to be very popular.

Have you seen The House? What did you think? Comment below or tweet us at @maxamoo.

Critics’ Reviews:

None yet, but this is a super short run don’t wait for them to get your tickets.

TICKETS

$20 (click here for tickets)

DATES

Performances through March 16, 2014

LOCATION

HERE Arts Center

145 6th Avenue
New York City

RUNNING TIME

One hour, no intermission

CAST & CREW (partial list)

Dramaturgy, production, design, and performance by Sofie Krog & David Faraco

Music by Cuco Pérez

OFFICIAL WEBSITE

HERE—The House

Sofie Krog Teater—The House

4

 Tweet

-
-

0

 +1

7

 Share

 in

 Share

0

▾

 Facebook social plugin